One balloon, two umbrellas, three bells. Familiar objects from the Pooh classics help introduce preschoolers to numbers and counting in this delightful book. And Pooh, Piglet, Eeyore, and the other inhabitants of the Hundred Acre Wood are here to join in the fun.

Learning their numbers—a real milestone for young children—is always exciting, but it's a special treat when accomplished with help from some of the best-loved characters in all of children's literature. This latest addition to the series of Pooh concept books will warm the hearts of devotees of A. A. Milne and Ernest H. Shepard, and foster the next generation of fans of the Best Bear in All the World.
